Postponed - Writer's Workshop

We are cancelling all groups this weekend and will reschedule as soon as possible.

Whether or not you consider yourself a writer, writing can be a great tool for self-discovery and healing. We'll engage in several exercises to explore our inner landscapes and discover paths to wholeness, and renewal. You're always welcome to share your writing or keep it private--our welcoming group of writers create a safe place to exercise your creativity. For more information, email Aaron (aaron@lexcentral.com).
