THIS MONTH, WE REMEMBER THE LIFE OF
SUSAN B. ANTHONY

This month we will remember the life of devout Quaker and woman's rights activist, Susan B. Anthony, born 200 years ago on February the 15th in Adams, Massachusetts. While best remembered for helping lead the movement toward the 19th Amendment, established 14 years after her death and granting women the right to vote, she was also a person of deep convictions of social justice for all, especially African-Americans who were enslaved and oppressed throughout her lifetime. Join us as we remember to say "Happy Birthday" to this extraordinary life of American influence and history.
