Morning Worship - Join us in person or online

Join us for worship this week in person or online as we reflect on God as divine light. While our faith does not always (or often) provide many answers, the presence of God can bring clarity and light in the midst of our circumstances. God's light invites us to look closely at what is going on within us and around us while being held in love and compassion. In this place of grace and acceptance we can be attentive to our sufferings and our joys alike with more objectivity. The welcoming light of God may also help us see our neighbor's suffering more clearly and discover just how much we share in common.
