Central 101: Living Well Class

Join us in the Living Well class to find out more about Central. Whether you're new to Central or you've been around for a while, you're welcome to explore our history as a unique baptist congregation in Lexington. From our beginnings as a small house congregation to our move to Wilson Downing, we'll talk about the thought and practice of our progressive family of faith and the many faithful workers that have brought us to this place.
